The dedication of the Ada Legion Memorial hall is the closing chapter on a long and tedious problem on the part of the city of Ada in paying their tribute of respect to the memory of the martyred dead of Pontotoc county.

In the fall of 1922 the proposition of erecting a memorial hall as a fitting emblem to the dead of war in Pontotoc county was suggested by the Lions Club and other civic organizations in a series of

CLAIM SCIENCE AND RELIGION PEACEFUL

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 26.—A joint statement holding that there is no antagonism between science and religion was issued here tonight as representing the conclusions of a group of forty distinguished Americans on a subject which recently has aroused bitter and widespread controversy.

The names of two cabinet officers, Secretaries Hoover and Davis, three bishops, and many others in positions of leadership in the political, business, scientific, and religious worlds are attached to the declaration, which was prepared by Dr. R. A. Millikan, director of the Norman Briggs laboratory of physics at Pasadena, California.

"The purpose," said an accompanying explanation, "is to assist in correcting two erroneous impressions that seem to be current among certain groups of persons." "The first is that religion today stands for medieval theology, the second that science is materialistic and irreligious."

CHEATS DEATH IN TRAIN COLLISION

Local Man Escapes Serious Injuries When Truck is Crashed by Train.

Louis Parry, manager of the Ada Poultry and Egg company found the grim reaper on friendly terms and rode 80 yards on the crotch of the southbound Frisco passenger train Saturday afternoon after his Ford truck had been crashed to pieces and escaped serious injuries.

Parry, who was attempting to get across the tracks at Stockton avenue was shut off from view from the onrushing passenger train by a line of freight cars and did not hear or see the engine until it crashed into his truck and carried its load with almost certain death about 80 yards before coming to a stop.

Parry, who was knocked unconscious, was carried to the Faust hospital where his injuries were treated and an X-ray taken. The test was negative, showing that no bones had been broken in the crash. It was later stated at the hospital that outside of several body bruises and a severe cut over the right eye, Parry escaped without serious mishap.

Mert Massey of Fitzhugh was one of the eye witnesses of the near tragedy and picked Parry out of the debris of shattered truck parts.

The truck was completely demolished. Parry is a former resident of Shawnee and moved here recently to take charge of the Ada Poultry and Egg company after it was purchased by a Shawnee house.

Record Oil Well is Brought From Field in Texas

(By the Associated Press)
HOUSTON, May 26.—Flowing at a rate of 24,000 barrels a day the J. L. Thompson oil company's number one green well at Powell, blew in from 2911 feet at 3:10 p. m. today, according to reports received here by one of the larger companies. The huge flow is coming from a sand penetrated only five feet. Local oil men declare it the most valuable oil well in the United States today as the gravity is 35 and the temperature 99.

The Powell oil field now boasts five producing wells, two of which are gushers. The other gusher is the tragic Hughes-McKie well. Fourteen men lost their lives when an explosion fired 12,000 barrels of oil and a tremendous gas flow shortly after the well came in.

The Thompson well is fully under control.

Says Home Run King Robbed His

(By the Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, May 26.—Miss Jeannette Pennington, divorced wife of John A. Hine, an automobile salesman, today emphatically denied she ever had improper relations with Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, champion batsman last year of the national league. She stated that she knew the ball player but had never been in his company prior to her divorce.

Hornsby declined to discuss a case in which Hine filed a petition in the court of domestic relations here yesterday naming the star second baseman as having "broken up"

Hine's home.
Hearing on the petition which asks that a decree of divorce granted Mrs. Hine, 23 years old, several months ago, be set aside on the grounds that it was obtained by fraud was continued until next Friday.

A love letter signed "Rodge" and purported to have been written by Hornsby, who also led the National League in batting last season, was introduced by counsel for Hine. Hine testified that his former wife had admitted to him that Hornsby was the author of the missive and that his attorneys have "all he proofs in the world" that the ball player wrote the letter.

"My attorneys have the letters which were sent to me by Hornsby's attorneys offering terms to hush up the matter," Hine said in his statement. "If necessary I can bring Hornsby's team mates into court to prove that he wrote the letter. It is not money I want. It is revenge. Hornsby has broken up my home."

Mrs. Hine testifying on her own behalf said they were married in 1919 and that Hine had failed to support her.

Clemency Machine Again in Sway

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26.—W. R. Barnes of Osage county, convicted in November of 1920 of the murder of his wife and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary, was paroled today by Governor J. C. Walton.

C. H. Poff, Osage county attorney, said the crime was one of the most brutal in the history of the county. He said Barnes wife had refused to live with him and that he shot her as she stepped from a motor car to enter a Pawhuska bank.

Barnes spent part of the two years of his sentence he has served in confinement in the state insane asylum at Vinita but was sent to the penitentiary when he was declared sane.

The request for a pardon was signed by several Missouri citizens as well as Osage county residents, one of the signer being M. A. Rom-Jue, congressman elect of Macou, Missouri.

Flood Waters on Rampage in Oklahoma City and Territory.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26.—City firemen and policemen under the direction of Chief of Police Ray Frazier manned boats at various points along the North Canadian river here tonight for rescue work when the crest of the flood coming down the stream reaches Oklahoma City.

Many families in the lowlands were surrounded by water late this afternoon and some were removed to higher ground.

The North Canadian was reported to be at the highest point in years at El Reno. A rise of five feet within two hours was reported this evening.

Two railroad bridges were reported washed out on the Fort Smith and Western railroad east of El Reno. A further rise of three feet would send the river out of the new channel near El Reno and flood hundreds of acres of land, it was reported.

At Calumet, northeast of El Reno, it was reported that the river had spread out over four miles, bringing the water up to the town.

A rise of three feet has been recorded in Oklahoma City since Friday night. Part of Exchange avenue was flooded tonight and water was creeping up into the Western League ball park again.

The crest of the high water will not reach Oklahoma City until Sunday night or Monday morning, it was predicted by the federal weather bureau.

This rise is the second since the heavy storm of last Monday.

Whitfield, wanted for the killing of a Cleveland policeman, broke from cover in a hazel grove outside of MacFarland this morning and again eluded police officers and a large posse by making a temporary getaway in the large green automobile which he stole after escaping from the police here Tuesday night.

The escaped man was traced as far as Edgerton by police officers headed by Lieutenant Charles Neel of Cleveland. They are now close on his trail while the posse still hunts in the marshy country about Lake Tegonasa.

GULF TO CANADA FLIGHT REMOVES AVIATION DOUBT

Lieutenant Crocker Completes Record Flight From South to North.

TRIP IN 11 HOURS

Mitchell Welcomes Aviator on Completion of New Record Flight.

(By the Associated Press)
MOUNT CLEMONS, Mich., May 26.—Lieutenant Harrison G. Crocker landed at Selfridge field here at 6:15 o'clock (eastern time) tonight, completing a non-stop gulf to Canada flight. Lieutenant Crocker left Ellington field, Houston, Texas, at 5:21 (Central time) this morning.

The flight of 1400 miles was made in 11 hours and 54 minutes. The actual Gulf to Canada flight required 11 hours and 29 minutes, the rest of the time being consumed in reaching the landing field.

Lieutenant Crocker flew over Canadian territory opposite Trenton on the final lap from Toledo, Ohio, to Selfridge field.

Lieutenant Crocker said his engine performed perfectly except for a few minutes as he passed over Louisiana.

The greater part of the distance was flown at a height of one hundred to five hundred feet because of low hanging clouds. At one point, Lieutenant Crocker said, he was flying so low that he feared his plane would crash into the tree tops and he was forced to rise through and above the clouds to a height of 3000 feet. He was obliged to maintain this altitude for about an hour before he found a rift in the clouds that permitted him to get a sight of the earth again.

Gas Supply Exhausted
His supply of 240 gallons of gasoline was exhausted when the Crocker plane was twenty minutes away from Selfridge field and the remainder of the trip was made on emergency fuel.

Two sandwiches were all Lieutenant Crocker ate on his record making trip. He said he had coffee but did not have time to drink it.

General William Mitchell, assistant chief of the air service, was at Selfridge field and was one of the first to welcome Lieutenant Crocker.

"This flight," said General Mitchell, "coupled with that of Lieutenants MacReady and Kelly from coast to coast demonstrates conclusively that the United States can put an air force in the center of the country and move it to any border, north, south, east or west within eleven hours."

First German is Executed Charged With Sabotage

DUSSELDORF, May 26.—Alfred Schlageter was executed by French troops today for sabotage on railroads in the occupied region and other offenses. He was shot in a stone quarry near a cemetery and his body was delivered forthwith to the cemetery authorities. This is the first execution in the occupied zone.

Schlageter was escorted to the quarry by two priests and went unflinchingly to his death. Ten shots were fired at him.

Besides sabotage, Schlageter, a former Prussian officer was convicted by a French courtmartial of espionage and association with criminals. He admitted the blowing up of railroad tracks and bridges. The French regarded him as a chief of the murder gangs which have been carrying on a campaign of terror against the occupation of the Ruhr.

PROHIBITION AGENTS ARREST RING LEADERS

(By the Associated Press)
NORFOLK, Va., May 26.—Federal prohibition agents today were running down evidence of a gigantic liquor smuggling syndicate following the arrest here late yesterday of William L. Burwell, alias William E. Baker, who they said had confessed he was operating as an agent for an organization controlling the fleet of rum runners which has been off the Virginia capes for the last week.

Burwell, self-styled "second in command of the Atlantic coast fleet," his wife and Rex D. Sheldon, all of New York, were arrested yesterday at a local hotel where they are held under guard.

NEW YORK, May 26.—Assistant United States Attorney Clarke today announced that Rex D. Sheldon, arrested in Norfolk yesterday in connection with rum smuggling off the Virginia capes was the "most precious scoundrel" in the bootlegging case in which the Montagne brothers society of liquor dealers were involved.

COMMISSIONERS ASK NEW BRIDGES

Destruction by Rains Leaves County Highways Without Bridges.

All three county commissioners and C. J. Laseman and J. D. Pace, commissioners elect, who will begin their terms July 1, were in Ada Saturday afternoon to confer regarding ways and means of rebuilding the many bridges and culverts washed out last week. The lost public property has been the result of work that began at statehood and proceeded as funds were available. The unprecedented floods took away most of it and the commissioners are facing a serious proposition in the matter of replacing the structures. They did not take any definite action but will probably meet again Monday.

Commissioner Stephens, in conversation with a News reporter, expressed his opinion that since these bridges and culverts must be rebuilt, they should all be of reinforced concrete. He roughly estimates that this will require an outlay of $150,000, but says the recent floods have proved that it is only worth while to build on a permanent basis while the county is at it. So far as reported, only one small concrete bridge went out. Mr. Stephens says that work was in progress on a concrete bridge near Steedman. The concrete had just been poured into the forms and the supporting structure did considerable to choke the creek bed, but although the water was over it three times it still held.

Commissioner Stephens says a check of his district shows 13 concrete bridges, five concrete culverts and some 30 or 40 wooden culverts washed out.

Commissioner Laughlin stated some 30 or 35 bridges and a large number of culverts in his district are gone. Mr. Laseman, who will succeed Mr. Laughlin July 1, said that about 15 bridges in the Lightning Ridge part of the district were washed away.

Commissioner Brents said that his district had lost four bridges of 25 to 50 feet in length and from 25 to 50 culverts.

HUNDREDS FLOCK TO ANNUAL EAST CENTRAL SCHOOL

Summer Session Promises to Record Enrolment for Term This Year.

800 LISTED NOW

Grand Rush Expected Monday When District Teachers Come to Ada.

The annual flood of summer students has begun flowing into the city from all parts of the district and many places outside of the East Central supervision. As soon as train service could be provided after the heavy rains of the week East Central became the mecca for hundreds of aspiring students and teachers.

Enrolment for the summer session was begun early in the week to take care of many who live here or who have been attending the college during the winter and spring terms.

All indications point to this summer session being by far the largest as well as the greatest in the history of the institution. About eight hundred students had enrolled by 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the total for the week was expected to approach a thousand.

The grand rush of enrolling will take place next week when enough students and teachers are expected from over the district to bring the total for the summer around two thousand. This is a tremendous increase over the number who took summer work here during the first session a few years ago.

Busy Classifying Students
Practically all of the College faculty, including both regular members and those employed to help provide instruction for the summer term only, were busy helping classify the visitors.

The Y. W. C. A. provided a desk in the hall of the administration building where visitors and those not familiar with the school could get information about the session and about places for room and board.

Class work will begin at 7 o'clock Monday morning according to the schedule. Enrolling will also be continued until all those wishing to take work here are provided for.

Classes will run from 7 o'clock in the morning until one in the afternoon. Special classes in current educational problems, taught by the most experienced superintendents and administrators of the district will be offered at 2 o'clock.

Five buildings will be used to take care of the summer session. These are: Administration building, education building, gymnasium, and Willard and Hayes school buildings.

Entertainment Program Stated
Upon enrolling and paying the entrance fees the students receive an enterprise ticket which will admit them to all the entertainments brought here during the session by the college. An interesting and varied program has been arranged for the amusement and instruction of the members of the student body.

Among the entertainers provided for the summer are fourteen programs by the Premier Chautauqua, a concert by Miss Jessie Isabel Christian, and addresses by Senator Pat Harrison and Dr. Charles McKenny.

Improvements and repairs on the administration building as provided for by the last legislature have been put into effect and the building is now in excellent condition to care for the increased influx of summer students.

Special Advantage Given
The courses offered by the teachers colleges during the summer are a great advantage to teachers over the district. They are given an opportunity to continue their education and, to improve their standards of efficiency while at the same time teaching for the entire nine months of the regular school year.

The popularity of such an opportunity is shown by the numbers of teachers who through the teachers colleges through the warmer months of the year in order to secure the educational advantages resulting from more schooling.

The teachers who brave the heat of the summer sun also have the benefits resulting from association with the educational leaders of the district and keep in touch with the latest phases of their profession.

Coach M. Z. Thompson promises a baseball team for the summer and the tennis courts will be open to the students through the term. A number of the student body will be active in taking the coaching course offered under Mr. Thompson.

For those not caring to take part in either of these sports swimming at the pool at the city park and at Ford's pool will offer inducements to exercise and pleasure to relieve whatever tedium may accompany their courses of study.

King Henry VIII greatly enjoyed dancing.

With the Women of Today

By EDITH MORLARTY

A great deal has been done since the war put the nursing profession on a higher plane and today there are many universities opening special schools for nursing training. Western Reserve University has just been given $500,000 for a school of nursing there and Yale has just opened a nursing school. Miss Annie Goodrich, once called "the outstanding figure in nursing education in America today," has been appointed dean of the new school at Yale.

Miss Goodrich is now assistant professor of nursing at Teachers College, Columbia University, and director of nurses of the Henry Street Settlement, New York. She was superintendent of nurses at the New Post Graduate Hospital from 1893 to 1900, and since that time has served with St. Luke's Hospital, Bellevue Hospital, the New York State Education Department and the Army School of Nursing.

Mount Holyoke College gave Miss Goodrich an honorary degree in 1921 and the war department recently awarded her the Distinguished Service Medal. President Angell of Yale says, "It would be impossible to find any one more competent to undertake the difficult work of organizing the new institution."

OUR WOMEN LAWMAKERS

Miss Gertrude MacKinney, one of the eight women elected to the House of Representatives in Pennsylvania, pledged to strengthen the "dry laws" if elected. Miss MacKinney's home is in Butler and she had to do a great deal of her campaigning among the farmers. Here is what she had to say of her campaign. "I found the farmer and the farmer's wife very ready to support a woman candidate, and there was little or no prejudice because I was a woman. My chief opposition came from professional politicians."

CITIES WANT WOMEN POLICE

Interest is growing throughout the country in the organization of women police divisions. A division said to be a model of what a woman's police force should be has just been organized in Detroit. Savannah, Georgia, and Boston are also considering adding police women to their city force. The University of California, anticipating a great demand for policewomen, will offer a course for their training in the fall. Atlanta is hunting for the proper woman to head their women police and Savannah is also looking for a woman police commissioner.

WOMEN ADVANCE IN TURKEY

Modern Turkish girls no longer live secluded lives. They are working in offices, some as bank clerks, some as bookkeepers. Many are studying medicine and electrical engineering and others are going in for agriculture. All are preparing for careers of usefulness.

Premier Airmen Differ Widely in Personality But Make Perfect Pair

(By the Associated Press)

DAYTON, May 26.—Lieutenants Oakley Kelley and John A. MacReady, regarded as the country's premier airmen since they bettered the world's endurance record and made the first successful non-stop transcontinental flight, owe their success as a flying team as much to their contrasting personalities as to their admitted superiority as pilots, in the opinion of aviators at McCook Field here, the home station of the men. They predict that the ability of the two men to work together in trying situations will bring further aerial honors to the United States Army.

Kelley's enthusiastic and impulsive nature gives the combination the necessary "punch," while MacReady, more staid and quiet, furnishes the "balance" which is a necessary element in carrying through many difficult situations according to the belief of those who have observed the men working and flying together during the past two years.

A striking illustration of the divergent characteristics of the two fliers is given by Lieutenant Harold K. Harris who, in a speedy plane, overtook the pair as they passed over Dayton in their recent transcontinental flight. Harris, getting a late take-off, pursued the big ship for some miles before overtaking it. As he came abreast, he says, the man in the cockpit carelessly threw up an arm. "That's MacReady," Harris says he decided as he observed the action. For a moment the second passenger of the T2 did not appear. Then from the depths of the fuselage a bundle of blankets suddenly appeared and was waved frantically in the wind. "That was easy," said Harris, "I knew it was Kelley, without giving a second glance."

Credit for the working out of the transcontinental flight plan is given almost entirely to Kelley by his brother aviators. As chief of maintenance of planes and engines at the mammoth flying center, Kelley in the face of ridicule, opposition and statements that the air service had no ship which had even a chance of flying across the continent has worked, talked and lived on the plans for the coast to coast flight, during his two years at the field.

For some time no plane appeared that seemed capable of carrying out Kelley's plans, but finally the T2, a Fokker ship originally designed as an eight passenger transport, was brought to McCook Field. Kelley recognized the possibility of long distance flights in it, officers say, and he immediately started work. With a rebuilt fuselage and a new Liberty engine Kelley and MacReady started from the coast last fall only to be forced down near Indianapolis through a mishap. Undaunted Kelley, aided by Lieut. E. W. Dykeman, an expert in the engineering department of the field, continued his work on the plane and after further improvements had been made Kelley, in company with MacReady, realized the ambition he has held for almost two years. McCook Field aviators say that one of the best testimonials to the flying ability of Kelley and MacReady, is the fact that neither has had a serious mishap during more than five years of air service. Both have been fliers since 1917.

Both Kelley and MacReady originally were Californians and both received their training at Rockwell Field at San Diego. Kelley's family, however, now resides at Grove City, Pennsylvania. Neither is married.

MacReady has had a picturesque career. Graduated from the University of California, he was admitted to the bar and subsequently became a rancher, a justice of the peace in a rancher, a justice of the peace in a small mining community, and early in the war entered the air service where he has remained ever since. He has earned a reputation as a boxer in the service.

Kelley, somewhat younger, entered the service after completing his schooling.

Whatcha' Think! Man Asks Taxes Valuation Hike

"Mr. Heard, do you ever have any one to come in and ask that his assessed valuations be raised?" was the question put to N. T. Heard, tax assessor, by a reporter.

"Yes,"

"Please explain," the startled reporter hurriedly demanded.

"Well, it was like this," the assessor continued. "There was a woman who had turned her property in for a certain valuation. A few days later she came back and said that she wanted to double that, making a difference of about two hundred dollars in the taxes."

Do you mean to say that no man has ever come in. Are women more honest than men?"

"Well come to think of it; there was a man. He came in and asked us to raise the valuation on his real estate $2,500. We accommodated the man and put the figure where he wanted them. During the next year he obtained a loan on the farm, the loan being based on the higher valuation. The next year he wanted the assessment put back to the original figure. When we refused, he took the matter to the county commissioners and today that man will not speak to me."

There may have been others. The reporter grabbed his hat and left, fearing that he might eventually have to admit that women are more generous when it comes to paying taxes than men.

Wide Experiences Help to Pioneer College Teacher

Miss Kate K. Knight is the only member of the East Central State Teachers college, who has been in continuous service since the beginning of the institution in the fall of 1909. Prof. A. L. Fennem was a member of the original faculty, but he dropped out to head the Ada high school for several years.

Miss Knight came to what is now eastern Oklahoma when a girl and worked as a teacher among the Choctaws and Chickasaws for a number of years. She has worked in the best Indian schools in South-eastern Oklahoma, one of the most widely known of which is Bloomfield Academy in McCurtain county.

Her training in the best colleges and her wide travels and long experience in the school room have fitted her for her work as a teacher of teachers. Her methods in mathematics are those which have been proved by use and psychology. Her demand for thoroughness has done as much as any one thing to raise the standard of mathematical teaching in the schools of this part of the state.

Miss Knight has friends in every hook and corner of the school district. As the teachers come back to the Alma Mater, they seek her and solicit advice and encouragement. She makes friends without effort and holds them by her sincerity and positiveness.

When the pages of educational history of Oklahoma are finally written, the names of such sacrificing women as Miss Knight will be written in capital letters. Her life has been given to the lives of others, and her service is not only appreciated now but this appreciation will grow as the days pass.

Floyd Checks Up Eighth Grade Examination List For Prospective Teachers

The county superintendent's office has checked up the results of the eighth grade examinations in the schools of the county, with the exception of Vanoss. When this school is checked up Mr. Floyd says the figures will show that approximately 200 passed and about 60 failed. Last year 180 passed, but at that time two examinations were given. The above figures do not include the independent districts of Ada, Roff, Francis, Stone-wall and Allen.

To receive an eighth grade certificate a pupil must average not less than 75 in the following list of subjects: Agriculture, arithmetic, civics, composition, geography, grammar, U. S. history, Oklahoma history, penmanship, physiology, reading, spelling and domestic science.

An examination of the record by the News reporter showed that Miss Mayme Gilmore of Pickett had made the best average of the applicants, her grade being 90. However, many others were not far from that figure. Mr. Floyd expressed himself as very well satisfied with the showing of this year.

The various high schools of the county, outside of the five independent districts, doing from one to three years high school work had a total enrollment of 274 during the past term. With the exception of Fitzhugh, these high schools have all been developed during the past two years.

Following is a list of the schools doing high school work and the number of pupils in the high school grades: Latta 28, Vanoss 69, Lula 22, Fitzhugh 42, Frisco 14, Union Valley 20, Colbert 14, Okemah 20, Center 20, Lawton 9, Pleasant Hill 10, New Bethel 6.

Mr. Floyd states that although there will be some shifting about, most of the teachers who were in the county last year will be here again. Most of the places have been filled, he said. Another feature worthy of note is the fact that a large majority of the teachers of the county are from East Central State Teachers college.

In the early days following statehood most of the districts voted bonds and built cheap frame houses. A good many of these have seen their best days and are gradually being replaced with brick structures. Owl Creek district recently voted bonds for such a building and Union Hill will vote on a similar proposition on May 31. A good many of the districts have built teacherages and Mr. Floyd is of the opinion that still others will follow suit.

RAIL CONTROL IS PARLEY SUBJECT

Prominent Leaders and Men
Progressive Bloc in Attendance.

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, May 26.—Railroad valuation is an economic problem of fundamental importance to every interest in America, speakers today told a conference on railroad valuation composed of members of the "progressive bloc" in Congress, railroad labor leaders, sponsors of government ownership of railroads, and spokesmen for farm organizations.

The conference completed its organization meeting, outlined a tentative program of activities, and adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin.

William Jennings Bryan, the principal speaker at the public session this morning preceding an executive meeting of the invited delegates, told the assemblage that he thought government ownership of the carriers might be forced upon the country by the apparent impossibility of providing satisfactory regulations. He did not relish the thought, he said, because he was "afraid of the centralization of power of Washington," but government ownership seems inevitable because God never made men good enough to withstand the temptations of one put at the head of a private monopoly.

PEACE WELCOME GIVEN BY TURKS

War Threats Give Way to
New Plans of Peace at Conference.

(By the Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, May 26.—Peace instead of war in the near east was the welcome result of a dramatic session of the Lausanne conference held today at Chateau Chapau to settle the Turkish-Greek reparations controversy. Complete agreement was reached and as this was the only remaining problem between the Greeks and Turks hostilities which it was feared might involve the Balkan countries have been averted.

The United States through Joseph C. Grew, the minister to Switzerland, played an important part in the settlement. Mr. Grew's efforts for peace, which continued throughout the night and today, are regarded by the conference delegates as having helped considerably in preparing the way for the agreement the European powers have been seeking for a fortnight.

The happy ending of the war threats is expected to favorably influence the remainder of the near east negotiations and force an accord on the points still disputed. Incidentally it will further the proposed revision of the Turkish-American treaties which are still in the stage of informal conversation.

The thought interested him at once. It satisfied his practical and clerical soul. He left me hopefully and I saw nothing more of him for several months, when he came to report that all was well with him once more. In order to seal the new pact he had taken a larger apartment in a more engaging part of the city. Bessie was going on with her club life, and he was not opposing her. And then within the year came a child, and for the next two years all those simple, homey and seemingly binding and restraining things which go with the rearing and protection of a young life.

But, as I was soon to learn, even during that period all was not as smooth as might be. One day in Wray's absence Bessie remarked that, delightful as it was to have a child of her own, she could see herself as little more than milk-cow with a calf, bound to its service until it should be able to look after itself. She spoke of what a chain and a weight a child was to one who had ambitions beyond those of motherhood. But Wray, clerically so that he was, was all but lost in rapture. There was a small park nearby, and here he was to be found trundling this infant in a hand-some baby carriage whenever his duties would permit. He liked to speculate on the charm and innocence of babyhood and was amused by a hundred things he had never noticed in the children of others. Already he was planning for little Marie's future.

It was hard for children to be cooped up in the city. If he could win Bessie to the idea, they would move to some suburban town. They were prospering now and could engage a nursemaid, so Mrs. Wray resumed her intellectual pursuits. It was easy to see that, respect Wray as she might as an affectionate and methodical man, she could not love him, and that because of the gap that lies between those who think or dream a little and those who aspire and dream much. They were two differing rates of motion, flowing side by side for the time being only, he the slower, she the quicker. Observing them together one could see how proud he was of her and his relationship to her, how he felt that he had captured a prize regardless of the conditions by which it was retained, while she held him rather lightly in her thoughts or her moods. Having won her back he now sought to bind her to him in any way that he might, while she wished only to be free. For surcease she plunged into those old activities which had so troubled him, and now in addition to himself the child was being neglected, or so he thought. The arrival of Marie had not influenced her in that respect. And what was more and worse, she had now taken to reading Freud and Kraft-Ebbing and allied thinkers and authorities, men and works he considered shameful even though scarcely grasped by him. Once he said to me: "Do you know of a writer of the name of Pierre Loti?"

"Yes," I replied. "I know his works. What about it?"

"What do you think of him?"

"Why, I respect him very much. What about him?"

"Oh, I know, from an intellectual point of view, as a fine writer, maybe. But what do you think of his views of life—of his books as books to be read by the mother of a little girl?"

"Wray," I said, "I can't enter upon a discussion of any man's works upon purely moral grounds. He might be good for some mothers and evil for others. That is as you will. Those who are to be injured by a picture of life must be injured, and those who are to be benefited by it will be benefited. I can't discuss either books or life in that way. I see books as truthful representations of life in some form, nothing more. And it would be unfair to anyone who stood in intellectual need to be restrained from that which might prove of advantage to him. I speak only for myself, however."

It was not long after that, six months or less, that I heard there had been a new quarrel which resulted in Bessie's leaving him once more, and with her, which perhaps was illegal or unfair, she had taken the child of which he was so fond. Not hearing directly from him as to this, I called upon him after a time and found him living in the same large apartment they had taken. Apart from a solemnity and a reserve which sprang from a wounded and disgruntled spirit, he pretended an indifference and a satisfaction with his present state which did not square with his past love for her. She had gone, yes, and with another man. He was sure of that, although he did not know who the man was. It was all due to one of those two women about whom he had told me before, that Mrs. Drake. She had interested Bessie in things which did not and could not interest him. They were all alike, those people—crazy and notional and insane. After a time he added that he had been to see her parents. "I could not guess why, unless it was because he was lonely and still very much in love and thought they might help him to understand the troublesome problem that was before him."

There was no other word from him for much over a year, during which time he continued to live in the apartment they had occupied together. He had retained his position with the agency and was now manager of a department. One rainy November night he came to see me, and seated himself before my fire. He looked well enough, quite the careful person who takes care of his clothes, but thinner, more tense and restless. He said he was doing very well and was thinking of taking a long vacation to visit some friends in the West. (He had heard that Bessie had gone to California.) Then of a sudden, noting that I studied him and wondered, he grew restless and finally got up to look at a shelf of books. Suddenly he wheeled and faced me, exclaiming: "I can't stand it. That's what's the matter. I've tried and tried. I thought that the child would make things work out all right, but it didn't. She didn't want children and never forgave me for persuading her to have Marie. And that literary craze—but that was my fault. I was the one that encouraged her to read and go to the theaters. I used to tell her she wasn't up-to-date, that she ought to wake up and find out what was going on in the world, that she ought to get out with intelligent people. . . . But it wasn't that, either. If she had been the right sort of woman she couldn't have done as she has done." He paused and clenched his hands nervously, as though he were denouncing her to her face instead of to me.

"Now, Wray," I interposed, "how useless to say that. Which of us is as he ought to be? Why will you talk so?"

"But let me tell you what she did," he went on fiercely. "You haven't an idea of what I've been through, not an idea. She tried to poison me once—" and here followed a sad recital of the twists and turns and desperation of one who wished to be free. "And she was in love with another man, only I could never find out who he was." And he gave me details of certain mysterious goings to and fro, of secret pursuits on his part, of actions and evidences and moods and quarrels which pointed all too plainly to a breach that could never be healed. "And what is more, she tortured me. You'll never know—you couldn't. But I loved her. And I love her now." Once more the tensely gripped fingers, the white face, the flash of haunted eyes. "Once I followed her to a restaurant when she said she was going to visit a friend, and she met a man. I followed them when they came out, and when they were getting into a cab I told them both what I thought of them. I threatened to kill them, and then he went away when she told him to go. When we got home I couldn't do anything with her. All she would say was that if I didn't like the way she was doing I could let her go. She wanted me to give her a divorce. And I couldn't let her go, even if I had wanted to. I loved her too much. Why, she would sit and read and ignore me for days—days, without ever a word."

"Yes," I said, "but the folly of it all. The uselessness, the hopelessness."

"Oh, I know, but I couldn't help it. I was crazy about her. The more she disliked me, the more I loved her. I have walked the streets for hours, whole days at a time, because I couldn't eat or sleep. And all I could do was think, think, think. And that is about all I do now, really. I have never been myself since she left. It's almost as bad right now as it was two years ago. I live in the old apartment, yes. But why? Because I think she might come back to me. I wait and wait. I know it's foolish, but still I wait. Why? God only knows. Oh," he sighed, "it's three years now—three years."

He paused and gazed at me, and I at him, shaken by a fact that was without solution by anyone. I wondered where she was, whether she ever thought of him even, whether she was happy in her new freedom. And then, without more ado, he slipped on his raincoat, took his umbrella and marched out into the rain again, to walk and think, I presume. And I, closing the door, studied the walls, wondering. The despair, the passion, the rage, the hopelessness, the love. "Truly," I thought, "this is love—for one at least. And this is marriage—for one at least. He is spiritually wedded to that woman, who despises him. And she may be spiritually wedded to another, who may despise her. But love and marriage, for one at least, I have seen here in this room, and with mine own eyes."

GINGHAM SUMMER PREDICTED BRIGHT WITH ALL COLORS OF THE RAINBOW

CHICAGO—Gingham will be in evidence through every hour of the summer day this season, and a glance at the new gingham weaves for 1923 offers good reason for their increasing popularity. There is a striking array of new color combinations and original patterns. Both the imported ginghams and the high quality domestic weaves come in new bright shades favored for sports' wear, in pastel tones for dainty afternoon gowns, and in bewildering color combinations in fascinating checks and plaids. All the colors of the rainbow seem to have joined in a successful effort to make gingham more effective than ever.

Ginghams will have a wider range of uses than ever before, said a manager in Marshall Field and Company, Wholesale. "The new patterns in imported tissues and in high grade domestic ginghams—such as MFC, Highland Laid, Clairbrook, and others—make possible striking sports' costumes and charming frocks, suitable for every summertime occasion. Staple checks and neat fancies are just as popular as ever for simple morning frocks and children's dresses. Ginghams are now very important in the field of home decoration, and gingham curtains, pillow tops, table covers and luncheon sets are being extensively used to make summer homes cool and inviting."

Home dressmakers welcome this vogue for gingham, for this material "makes up" easily, and charming results are always assured. Gingham is the most practical and economical wash fabric on the market. It looks decidedly like a gingham summer.

Many Squirm Under Law to City Speeders

Mayor W. H. Fisher has enforced a tax which has not met with the usual storm of protest when mentioned.

Tax for speeders in the guise of fines has added to the coffers of the city treasury during the past month and taught the maniac that traffic laws must be observed.

Several arrests have been made during the month and no leniency has been shown to those brought before Mayor Fisher on this charge. Fines have been assessed in usual rapidity with the option of payment or jail sentence.

Activity on the part of city officials against speeders followed a series of warnings posted by Mayor Fisher, urging the co-operation of motorists.

Two arrests faced the bar of justice Saturday morning on a charge of speeding and were assessed the usual fine. Five other arrests on charges of gambling also received the decree of municipal court.

While in your study if your Eyes trouble you consult Coon, the old Reliable Optometrist, remember the efficiency in the school room depends essentially upon the condition of the Eyes, in nine cases out of ten, the inefficiency of the Eyes is due to some errors of refraction that properly fitted lenses will correct and such correction is in the professional field of the Optometrist, we determine the errors of the refraction and the adaptation of the proper lenses for the correction thereof.

Aside from the question of health, this question of the condition of the eye is very important to the teachers, principals, superintendents and the school boards and to parents, effective eyes impair the work of the school and public funds are wasted in carrying on the educational program.

SLIGHT ASTIGMATISM—does not impair distinct vision at all but imposes grievous strain upon the muscles and Motor nerves of the eyes. This will do, you may say for a hat, but not in the care of the eye, half an hour with Coon may save you a life of suffering. Try it.

We are Exclusive Optometrists. Our hobby, the eyes, and their care. Now located at the M. and P. Bank corner.

As Summer Comes Jailed Few Turn Thoughts Astray

Another unwilling boarder has been received into the Pontotoc county jail family, according to the register at the sheriff's office.

Johnson Giff, negro, received private quarters in the county bastille Friday afternoon when officers interrupted his scheme of floating worthless paper in the county. Preliminary hearing has not been set.

The county jail is expected to take on a lonesome effect during the summer months, its keeper main-tains for as a general rule misde-meanors are less in the summer months and the county jail less toler-able to those desiring liberty.

The jail keeper intimates that during summer months, prisoners look to the prospect of "sleeping it out" with less zeal than in the un-comfortable winter months, when jail sentences sometime serve as refuge from winter blasts.

The county jail family is now thinned down to a personnel of four, which is about the average attendance for this time of the year. February proved the lax month for county jail customers, only one prisoner being lodged within its walls at one time and this sole occupant being a trusty was allowed freedom at intervals.

The peak of patronage at the county jail came in January when grand jury indictments made park-ing space in the jails rarity. Over 20 prisoners were kept on the reg-ister at that time and were held until bond was arranged.

TRY SULPHUR ON AN ECZEMA SKIN

Costs Little and Overcomes Trouble Almost Over Night.

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying Mentho-Sulphur, declares a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment without delay. Sufferers from skin trouble should obtain a small jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like cold cream.

Moral Wave Brings Prosperity When Evangelist Talks

EELFAST.—This city is becoming so moral that one wonders if a policeman will be sure of a job in the future, says the Evening News correspondent, who records that "Petty thieving is on the decline. Many employers have received back stolen goods. Dozens of bags of tools 'borrowed' from shipyards have been returned. A grocer was paid 5 pounds that a woman customer had owed him for 20 years. For over an hour an ex-salor tried to persuade the local pensions staff that he was not entitled to a weekly disablement grant he had been drawing.

All this moral "uplift" is ascribed to the great religious revival conducted by Pastor Nicholson, who is escorted everywhere by a band of 70 chosen from his thousands of converts. It is necessary to go to church two hours before time to hear him preach, and men forego their supper and march direct from their shipyard work in the evening to listen to him.

The social calendar of the city has been full of interesting functions for the week despite the gloomy weather of the first few days. Spring has been in the hearts and homes of many, though storms have raged and winds have blown. The flower gardens have never yielded more gorgeous bouquets and garlands for decorations than at the present time "nature's gift" to love and happiness.

A Most Welcome Sight

What could be more welcome to a desert wanderer than the sight of an oasis of trees and water? Just as welcome to a tired, thirsty or hungry man, woman, boy or girl is a dish of ice cream, especially if it is SANTA ICE CREAM.

NEVER TOUCHED BY HUMAN HANDS

No longer do you have to buy ice cream made, with an old time uncertain freezer, in a little dark, crowded hole in the wall. Modern factories such as our own, have testing machines to determine the exact quality and quantity of each ingredient. Large steaming vats, for the proper sterilizing of each can; pasturizers to destroy any harmful bacteria which otherwise would go into the cream. Large sanitary freezers which precludes any dust or other impurities getting into the mix. From there it is drawn into sterilized cans, which are freshly lined to keep the ice cream from coming into contact with the naked can.

WHAT AN INSPECTOR SAID ABOUT THE HOME OF "SANTA ICE CREAM"

A recent inspector, while in our plant made this remark: "This place looks like a palace in comparison to most places I visit where ice cream is made."

Say—"SANTA ICE CREAM"—and stick with it.

Every COLLEGE STUDENT is welcome to visit our plant at any time.

Modern civilization has stepped on the gas and obtained the high-launched his ark and now they're going back to dig up the ancient to advance it within our sphere.

British tomb disturbers are bringing King Tut and his play-

dest revolution is the introduction of the monkey as our first link.

Now few people, even William J.
Bryan (who had a prominent role in the long death of J. Jake Bar-leycorn) like to admit that the tree clinging boys of centuries ago really resemble our great grand peers out from the dusty covers of the old family album.

Cooper and Sparks To Share Prominent Role On Oklahoma City Card

Arche Cooper and Claude Sparks will share parts on a boxing card to be aired before the fight fans of Oklahoma City June 8, according to the announcement of A. R. Dixon, manager of the two fighters.

Cooper's second match with Yennie Hendricks, hard hitting Oklahoma university fighter, is expected to draw more interest than any other feature on the card. Sparks will also claim a prominent role in his match with Kid Bentley of Enid, contender for welterweight championship of the southwest.

Cooper and Hendricks will make their exhibition a ten-round affair, promising the best of fighting skill seen in matches at the Coliseum under the promotion of Lew Cutler.

Cooper and Hendricks tangled in a match May 17 at the Coliseum and although losing the decision of the referee Cooper was adjudged the popular winner by the Oklahoma City fans and created such a following that a second match with Hendricks was in demand. Cooper was given the plaudits of the fans from the ringside to the farthest corner of the Coliseum and also the favorable comment of the press at Oklahoma City.

In Cooper's last match, he showed superior headwork during the entire fight and only in the last round did the terrific aggressiveness of Hendricks undo the prestige carried by the Ada fighter. Cooper's last fight with Hendricks lasted only for eight rounds.

Sparks has lively row.

Sparks' match is looked to with unusual interest, because of the heavy record of Bentley, the challenging end of the match. Bentley is seeking the southwest title in his weight and has laid claim to beating some of the best in Oklahoma and other southwestern states.

Sparks and Cooper are both local products and the majority of their matches have been capped off in the Ada ring. Both men have been training in some quarters and in many instances have held matches on the same card. Through their association as sparring partners, they have developed skill and endurance that have carried them to an enviable and deserving record.

Cooper is known and feared by fighters as having the most terrific left jab of any fighter in the state. Many contenders have felt defeat wrapped in Cooper's left mitt. Cooper has established a prestige of being a clean fighter and a hard hitter in in-fighting.

Sparks, who first developed phenomenal feats of endurance which led to his title of "Iron Jaw" has developed aggressiveness that has made him a favorite and in demand on cards in the state.

ATHLETICS NEED COACH MATERIAL

Graduating Class of New School for Athletic Training Find Places.

URBANA, Ill., May 26.—Young men who are especially trained as athletic coaches are in demand. This is demonstrated by the way in which members of the first graduating class of the four year course in athletic coaching and physical education at the University of Illinois are being signed up by colleges and high schools.

Among the engagements are the following:

Floyd C. Dougherty—baseball and basketball coach Wesleyan University, Connecticut.

Sam H. Hill—director of physical education and coach, Fairmont college, Wichita, Kan.

C. K. Zilman—instructor in physical education, Birmingham Southern college, Alabama.

Don Peden—assistant football coach, Ohio University, Athens, O.

John E. Teuscher—assistant coach Ohio, Wesleyan, Delaware, O.

G. R. Snodgrass—coach and director of physical education, Adamston high school, W. Va.

Charles F. Crooks—coach and director of physical education, Decatur high school, Illinois.

Armin A. Wahlbrinck—coach and director of physical education, Maywood high school, Missouri.

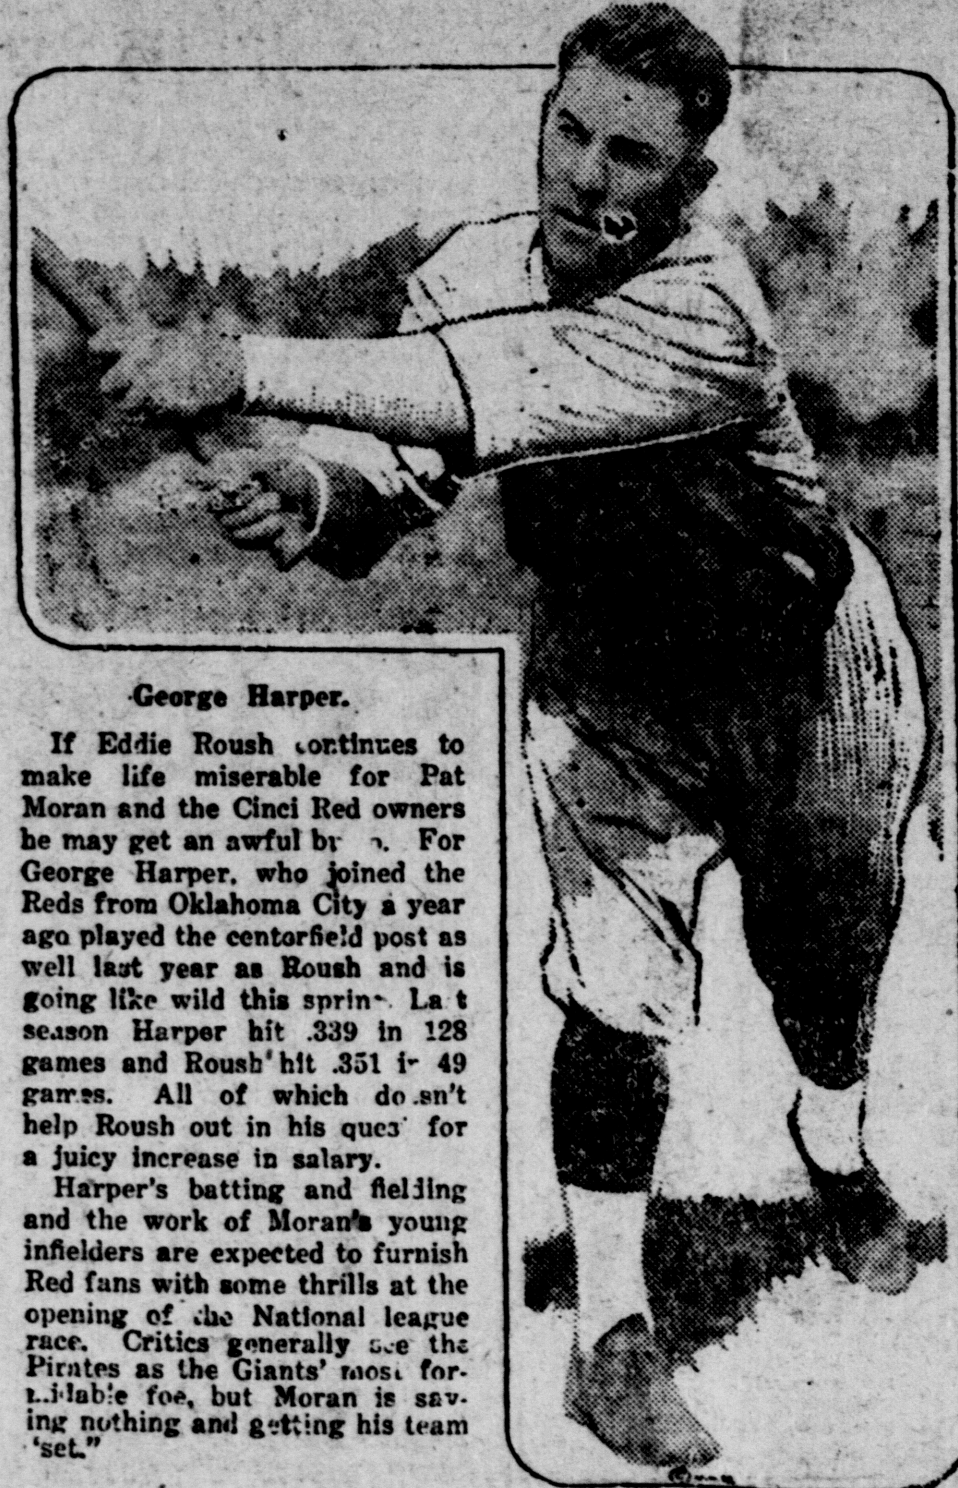

Roy E. McAfoos—coach and director of physical education, Monticello high school, Illinois.

Rhene B. Law—coach and director of physical education, Hillsboro high school, Illinois.

Lewis D. Erwin—coach and director physical education, Bloom township high school, Chicago Heights, Ill.

D. D. Wilson—captain of the 1922 football team, although not majoring in the athletic coaching course, has taken a number of studies. He has been selected as coach of the high school in Appleton, Wis. T. E. Royal, substitute back field player on the varsity, who also has taken considerable work in the course, will coach the high school teams at Fon du Lac, Wis., which will compete with Wilson's squads.

MAY GET EDDIE ROUSH'S JOB

George Harper.

If Eddie Roush continues to make life miserable for Pat Moran and the Cincinnati Reds he may get an awful break. For George Harper, who joined the Reds from Oklahoma City a year ago played the centerfield post as well last year as Roush and is going like wild this spring. Last season Harper hit .339 in 128 games and Roush hit .351 in 49 games. All of which doesn't help Roush out in his quest for a juicy increase in salary.

Harper's batting and fielding and the work of Moran's young infielders are expected to furnish Red fans with some thrills at the opening of the National league race. Critics generally see the Pirates as the Giants' most formidable foe, but Moran is saying nothing and getting his team "set."

PLAY PERIOD TO BE SCHOOL PLAN

Athletic Program Announced to Fill Summer School for Ward Students.

The summer terms for ward school students will not be a dull period in an athletic way. C. R. Cox stated Saturday after completing the schedule for athletic events during the summer months.

Athletics during the summer school session will be a new phase adopted for the ward schools of the city and will entail no cost to those enrolling for the period of three weeks.

Athletic work for the ward school students will be for those enrolled in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades and will last during the ten weeks of summer school.

This new phase of endeavor for summer school students is a new plan of the board of education in furnishing a well rounded program and relieve the monotony of classroom work.

Work will be started at 4:30 at every ward in the city and last through regular scheduled periods.

Athletic work will be under the direct charge of Coach Cox but assistants will handle work at separate schools as far as this can be worked out. In many instances assistant coaches will be those who will have charge of athletics during the next year.

The athletic work is not compulsory but in line with the regular summer school course and an opportunity for students to receive athletic training without cost and will apparatus furnished by the city board of education.

The enrollment in the classes had not been large Saturday but it is expected that they reach a large quota during the first week of summer school.

The schedule for the schools are as follows: Hays on Monday; Ward on Tuesday; Irving on Wednesday; Glenwood on Thursday; Washington on Friday.

The first three weeks of the summer term will be devoted to baseball training and the following three weeks to football. Two weeks will be occupied with basketball training and the last two weeks in track training. A ward school track meet will be held at the conclusion of the summer athletic training.

FIELDING TOTAL FOR CLUB HIGH

Fielding Average of .968 Percent Shows Class of Ball Played Here.

The fielding average of the Ada Amateur team now stand at .964 percent, according to figures compiled from the official box score. This high fielding average in indicative of the steady dependable class of baseball Ada fans are permitted to see while the local club crosses bats with visiting teams of the state.

Seven regulars and substitutes on the Ada lineup have not blanked their thousand mark record up to date, the official figures show, while all but two fielders on the Ada line up have averages rating higher than the .900 mark. Fain and Vernon claim the cellar berths in the fielding record.

Young pushed out of the regular lineup with the unusual feat of having taken 19 chances at his position at third and allowing only one ball to baffle his eye.

Rutledge on first base took credit for having part in 43 plays with chances and assist putouts and having no mark to scar his 1000 percent record. Lee took the heavy end in the chance column with 44 marks and 2 errors to his credit. Fain bore the brunt of fielding at second base, taking 33 chances and allowing 10 errors in his performance on the pivot sack.

The batting average of the team at last official count is .285.

Following is individual fielding averages:

POLAND BEGINS ENFORCING COMPULSORY EDUCATION LAW

(By the Associated Press)

WARSAW, May 26.—The first step toward the introduction of compulsory education in Poland, as provided by the constitution, has been made by the Ministry of Education, which announces that, beginning next fall, all children born in Poland who have reached the age of seven years shall be obligated to go to school.

ST. PAUL PLAYER VET ON LINE UP

Riggert's Age is Baffling Problem to Teammates of Many Years.

(By the Associated Press)

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 25.—Joe Riggert, veteran outfielder of the St. Paul club of the American Association, playing his twelfth season with the Saints, is one of the most valuable men on the club, according to Manager Mike Kelly.

During the spring training trip there was much conversation about Riggert, due largely to the fact that no one, except Riggert, himself, had a very definite idea as to his age. Among the ball players his age was variously estimated as "anywhere from 34 to 60."

Manager Kelly says he has definitely established Riggert's age. Joe came into Kelly's office the other morning and Kelly says: "Without waiting to say 'Good morning,' I said 'Joe, how old are you?' He said '36 years' before he had time to think and I am satisfied he is right about it."

This season Joe is playing right field, and hitting in fourth position. His work is of such nature that Manager Kelly says he had no intention of switching him, whatever shake-ups may come in the batting order.

The veteran comes up to the plate, regardless of how many may be on, as though he didn't care much what happened so long as he got up there with three bats swinging. Discarding two of them, he walks into the batting box. He bats from the right side, planting his right foot firmly, slumping his body a bit, as he faces the pitcher.

To those unfamiliar with his style Riggert's actions in the batter's box seem to indicate that he is easy for a curve ball. When he swings he pulls his left foot away from the plate, taking a long cut at the ball, and usually hitting into left field.

Every time he comes to bat the opposing outfield plants itself in the neighborhood of the fence. In addition to hitting home runs, Riggert enjoys most laying down a bunt, which he can do with the best, and winning a decision over the infield.

Riggert plays smart baseball and is seldom guilty of making a mental misplay.

Talking of Riggert's age recently, Manager Kelly remarked, he "didn't care how old Riggert is so long as he can play the baseball he had been showing me since he came with the club."

"Last fall," Kelly said, "when the season was finished, we held a field day with the members of the Toledo club. We had some fast boys and so did Toledo, but old Joe was just as fast that day, and is yet, as the day I got him. I don't recall his time, but he went around the bases in faster time than any of the younger fellows, with the exception of one Toledo boy, who tied him, and was afterwards disqualified, because he cut about three feet when rounding second base."

Boy Shortstop on Cardinal Squad is Old Time Bat-Boy

ST. LOUIS, May 25.—The development of Howard Freigau as the St. Louis Nationals' regular shortstop is one of the chief topics of discussion in fandom. Freigau, who served as a bat boy part of last season, is regarded as one of the most promising recruits to come up in the majors here in years.

He is but 20 years old. His hitting has been timely, and his defensive play has been described as spectacular.

He was born at Dayton, O., and signed by the Cardinals while attending college. He was turned over to the Syracuse Nationals, but was recalled late last season. Not being in the line-up, he voluntarily handled the bats and was referred to as the "highest paid bat-boy" in baseball.

This season he has been placed regularly at short because of the incapacitation of John Lavan by illness.

Auld's Prizes Untouched

Virgil Auld, local tailor, who offered prizes for fence rappers and husker swatters who put the "where outside the lot," was still confident that the season is not yet ripe for his offerings to fall in the hands of Ada players.

Three of Auld's attractive prizes remain untouched.

Youthful Tennis Stars Have Eventful Season In Store In America

ST. LOUIS FANS STILL HAVE STAR AT FIRST SACK

Jim Bottomley.

When George Sisler was forced to quit the game for an indefinite period because of illness St. Louis fans temporarily lost interest in baseball in general and first base in particular. They still miss the incomparable Sisler, but the spectacular fielding and heavy hitting of Jim Bottomley, now playing first for the Cardinals, is renewing the fans' interest in life.

ADA FANS AWAIT SHAWNEE TUSSLE

Visiting Club Composed of Many Members of Old Chandler Club.

The baseball game this afternoon between Shawnee and the local club promises to be one of the best contests held at the new ball park this season. Shawnee recently dropped from the County League and are now out to capture the State Amateur Championship. While the club is playing as Shawnee it is really largely made up of the players known here in previous seasons as the Chandler club. Local fans will remember when Chandler came to Ada in 1920 and carried off the baseball honors as well as a large amount of local greenback. Among the players that brought victory for Chandler were Watson, Posty, Brooks and Stultz and now comes word that these men will be with the Shawnee club when they appear on 'the local ground this afternoon along with other players of equal talent.

The Ada club had a good workout Thursday evening and are in good condition to put up a stiff fight. Johnnie Fain and others have promised to show the fans some real baseball, which no doubt will be worth the price of admission to say nothing of the slugging that Young has been earning up especially for this game. Since Kaiser made such a good showing at first base when he relieved Rutledge in last Saturday's game, it is rumored that Ben will have to show some stuff to regain his position.

The game will be called promptly at 3 o'clock. The batteries will likely be Williams and Lee for the local club and Odell, Roberts, Miller and Watson for Shawnee.

Exports of meat and meat products from the United States last year, totaled 1,753,000,000 pounds, compared with 1,346,000,000 pounds in 1921.

Old Timer Trots Out To Receive Highest Honors In Big League Bat Race

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 26.—Eddie Collins, star second baseman with the Chicago White Sox, is throwing the biggest surprise of the American league season, judging from his performance to date revealed in averages compiled today.

Collins is playing a snappier game than ever, fielding with remarkable brilliancy, and is threatening to capture the batting honors of the league—all after seventeen years of major league service and at a time when thousands of fans are raising the cry that he is slowing up.

In answer to the chant that he is "slipping" Collins today is leading the league in base stealing with thirteen thefts, and had the best showing of the batters during the week, increasing his averages twenty-six points for an average of .356 for 29 games, placing him third in the list of leading hitters.

"Babe" Ruth, like Collins, is playing better baseball this season in the opinion of his admirers who say the big fellow is covering more ground, is in better physical condition, and is determined to make this his banner season. Ruth added twenty-four points to his average of a week ago and bagged four homers, running his string to eight, while Ken Williams, of the Browns, who started piling up the circuit blows before "Babe" got his eye on the ball, made only one, which was enough, however, to give him the edge over Ruth.

Ruth, in addition to closing the home run gap between himself and Williams, has tied the St. Louis star for total base honors. Ruth's hits, besides his homers, include ten doubles and three triples, while Williams' blows include five doubles and three triples, in addition to nine homers.

Another department in which "Babe" is going stronger than his rivals is the scoring. Ruth has counted thirty times in his thirty-one games.

Harry Heilmann, the Detroit star, who lead the league with a mark of .513 a week ago, felt the sting of good pitching and fell into a slump. He continues to top the batters, however, with an average of .448. Dick Reiche, the former University of Illinois star, now with the Red Sox, is the runner up with an average of .387; Bing Miller of the Athletics is next with .361.

Other leading batters for twenty or more games: Ruel, Washington .357; E. Collins, Chicago .357; Jamieson, Cleveland .355; S. Rice, Washington .351; Cobb, Detroit .350; Welch, Philadelphia .345; Veach, Detroit .338; Ruth, New York .333.

Nels of the Dodgers and Traynor of the Pirates are making an impressive showing among the National League hitters, none of whom, however, has been able to depose the veteran Zack Wheat of Brooklyn, from the top of the heap.

Wheat continues in front with an average of .417, with Grimm, also of the Pirates trailing with .404. Bottomley of the Cardinals is perched in third place with .399. Nies boosted his mark from .355 to .372 and Traynor went to .364 from .340.

"Cy" Williams of the Phillies is the class of the league in home run hitting having poled sixteen. He is the first major league player to pass the century mark for total base honors this season. His hits give him a total of 104 bases which besides his homers, include six doubles and three triples.

Max Carey of the Pirates is creeping up on Sammy Bohne of the Reds for stolen base honors, the speedy Pittsburgher having negotiated six to Sammy's seven.

Other leading batters for twenty or more games: Southworth, Boston .337; Frisch, New York .375; Hornsby, St. Louis .375; Nels, Brooklyn .372; Traynor, Pittsburgh .364; McInnis, Boston .363; Youngs, New York .355; Kelly, New York .344; Flack, St. Louis .344.

Carl East, of Minneapolis and Krueger of Indianapolis, suggest extraordinary, are throwing a scare into the batters of the American Association. Krueger gained forty-nine points and East tacked on forty-six, but Bunny Brief of Kansas City continued to show the way with an average of .444. Brief also is leading the home run hitters with eleven, and is leading in total bases with eighty-six. Besides his homers, his hits include seven doubles and three triples. Smith of Toledo is the runner up to Brief for batting honors with .420. Eddie Murphy, of Columbus, is leading the base stealers with a dozen thefts.

Other leading batters for twenty or more games: Combs, Louisville .384; Lamar, Toledo .369; East, Minneapolis .360; Brown, Indianapolis .359; Roth, Kansas City .351; Krueger, Indianapolis .350; Davis, Columbus .349; Christenbury, Indianapolis .347.

Richbourg of Nashville, by cracking out fourteen hits in his last seven games, moved to the head of the batters in the Southern Association, deposing Lebourveau, a teammate, who dropped to tenth place. Richbourg is hitting .382 compared with .356 a week ago. Huhn of Mobile, with .378 is the runner-up and Williams, also of Mobile is next with .371.

Clarke of Birmingham has tied Herman of Atlanta for home run honors, each having four. Moore of Atlanta is blazing the paths with 12 stolen bases.

Other leading batters in twenty or more games: S. Clarke, Birmingham .362; Miller Birmingham .360; Tucker, New Orleans .358; Foss, New Orleans .357; Lenard, Chattanooga .344; Smith, Little Rock,

East Central to Receive Teachers from Holdenville

HOLDENVILLE, May 25.—City Superintendent C. L. Reeves of Holdenville has accepted an invitation to teach Education and Psychology at the East Central State Teachers College during the forthcoming summer term. This is the second year for Mr. Reeves as a special instructor in the Ada institution.

Superintendent Reeves has the reputation as a thorough student in Psychology and this invitation to teach in one of the largest teachers' colleges in Oklahoma is a recognition of his ability.

County Superintendent Virgil H. Durham will teach History and Government at East Central this summer. Mr. Durham's long experience as City and County Superintendent, and his thorough training will make him a valuable instructor.

It is probable that more than a thousand students will attend the Ada Teachers College this summer and the forthcoming session bids fair to be not only the biggest but the best in the history of the institution.

DUBINSKY SHOWS HERE FOR WEEK

Full Troupe of Players and Musicians Here for Weeks Engagement.

The Dubinsky Bros. Stock Company, who played here last year, are here again this week for a week's engagement. The troupe of players who were here last year will be remembered as high class, self-respecting and intelligent people. A different show, under the same management is in the city now, but the same thing may be said of this company; and the amusement they are furnishing to those who turn out nightly, is far above that of the average stock company.

In connection with the show a six-piece orchestra, composed of young men who are artists with their instruments, is carried. The orchestra accompanying the company who played at this place last year will be remembered as being exceptionally good, but this bunch of live boys is even better than they were. Between acts witty comedians help you to pass the time while the scenery is being changed; and in all, the show is a good one.

This company is too well known in Ada to go into details regarding it. Suffice it to say that Dubinsky Co. opens here for a week's stay starting, Monday, June 28th.

Friendship is a strong and habitual inclination in two persons to promote the good and happiness of the other.

SALES OF FORDS TO HIGH RECORD

More Than Half Million Are Sold in 120 Days, is Record.

More than half a million Ford cars and trucks sold in 120 days. That is the astonishing record just established by the Ford Motor company, eclipsing all previous sales figures and emphasizing more strongly than ever the right of the Ford to the title "The Universal Car."

From January 1 to May 1 sales of Ford cars and trucks in the United States reached the enormous total of 551,544, nearly twice the number sold at retail during the same period a year ago when the total was 283,782.

Even with its huge production facilities, now operating on a schedule in excess of 6,500 cars and trucks a day, the company is unable to keep up with the unprecedented demand.

April set a new sales record for the month, just as has every other month this year, and was the thirteenth consecutive month in which sales have run over the 100,000 mark.

Sales during April totaled 165,582 Ford cars and trucks, 50,000 more than were delivered in the same month last year when 115,282 retail deliveries were made.

New production records were established by the Ford Motor company for the week ending Tuesday, May 8, during which a total of 39,053 cars and trucks were turned out for domestic use, according to an announcement by the Ford News. This exceeds by 19p the previous high record set the week before.

Daily production records went to a new high mark Friday, May 4, when 6,500 cars and trucks were assembled, beating the record of 6,573 established on Tuesday, April 17.

Fordson tractor production for the week ending Tuesday was 2,578.

During the same week the Lincoln division of the Ford Motor company produced 176 Lincoln cars.

MACHINE GUNS USED TO GUARD TREASURES

CLEVELAND, May 26.—The new Fourth Federal Reserve bank building here is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for occupancy about June 1. The building has many details of architecture and ingenuity that make it one of the most remarkable in the United States, architects and builders say, with strength and safety the keynote.

The main vault is 30 feet below the street level. Side and rear walls are six feet thick. The front wall is seven feet thick and has the heaviest door in the world. The vault is designed to hold upward of two billion dollars in gold and securities, according to D. C. Willis, chairman of the board.

The first floor, for the transaction of public business, is finished in Italian marble. Customers can lock themselves behind iron bars when transacting business with a teller.

A gallery of armor plate surrounds the first floor, with loopholes from which guards can see everything occurring below.

Truck driveways lead directly into the main room. It cannot be "rushed." The truck first enters a vestibule and the street door must be closed and locked behind it before the second door, opening direct into the main room can be opened.

Armed guards can look down upon the main room and command it with rifles, and statues at each of the entrances to the building will conceal machine guns.

You Know the Old Saying—"The proof of the pudding is in the eating"

Likewise the proof of any manufactured product as to its stability or economy lies in what those people who have had experience with it have to say about it.

Read what S. D. Roberts of Ada, Pontotoc county, Oklahoma, says about Chevrolet performance:

"Last October I bought a Chevrolet Roadster and since that time I have driven this car 8,640 miles and have spent less than $10.00 on it. I get better than 23 miles to the gallon of gasoline and 1,000 miles to the gallon of oil. I would get more oil mileage but I have the oil changed at 1,000 miles. I have put this car over all kinds of roads and have better success with it than any car I ever owned."

How is that? Some performance we'll say. Cost less than $1.00 per thousand miles of operation.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

THE PRINCE OF PEACE:—For unto us a child is born; and the government shall be upon his shoulders; and his name shall be called, The Prince of Peace.—Isaiah 9:6

THE BEST EDITORIAL OF 1922.

William Allen White has been awarded the $500 Pulitzer prize for the best editorial of 1922. The editorial appeared in the Emporia Gazette last July while engaged in their "placard" controversy over the industrial court law. The editorial is printed herewith.—Ed.

To an Anxious Friend.

(By William Allen White)

You tell me that law is above freedom of utterance. And I reply that you can have no wise laws nor free enforcement of wise laws unless there is free expression of the wisdom of the people—and alas, then folly with it. But if there is freedom, folly will die of its own poison, and the vision will survive. That is the history of the race. It is the proof of man's kinship with God.

You say that freedom of utterance is not for time of stress, and I reply with the sad truth that only in time of stress is freedom of utterance in danger. No one questions it in calm days, because it is not needed. And the reverse is true also! Only when free utterance is expressed is it needed, and when it is needed it is most vital to justice. Peace is good. But if you are interested in peace through force and without fress discussion, that is to say, free utterance decently in order—your interest in justice is slight. And peace without justice is tyranny, no matter how you may sugar coat it with expediency. This state today is in more danger from suppression than from violence, because in the end, suppression leads to violence; violence, indeed, is the child of suppression. Whoever pleads for justice helps to keep the peace; and whoever tramples upon the plea for justice, temperately made in the name of peace, only outrages and kills something fine in the heart of man which God put there when we got our manhood. When that is killed, brute meets brute on each side of the line.

So, dear friend, put fear out of your heart. This nation will survive, this state will prosper, the orderly business of life will go forward if only men can speak in whatever way given them to utter what their hearts hold—by voice, by posted card, by letter, or by press. Reason never has failed men. Only force and repression have made the wrecks in the world.

LET'S IMPROVE THE PARK.

The News is in hearty accord with Commissioner Smith in his ambition to improve the lake park and make it one of the beauty spots of southern Oklahoma. We cannot imagine a more beautiful setting for a park, and if the lake can be kept filled with water it will be something few other cities in the state have.

Every encouragement possible should be given people to be out doors. One of the regrettable things about our modern mode of living is that we stay too much indoors. We do not get the vigor that the open country gives. We can overcome this handicap by frequenting parks and other places of recreation.

The lake park is not too far from the city to be used. Many people now have cars and can go there as easily as they could go a few blocks years ago.

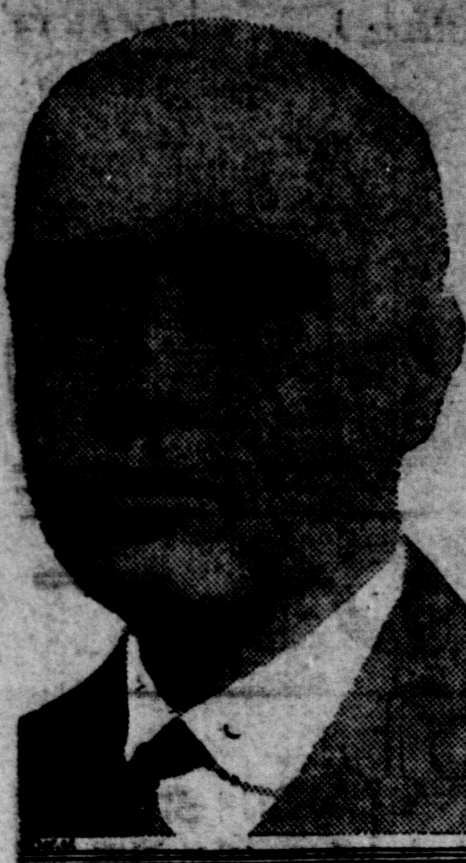

We had hoped that several small parks close in could be purchased, but this seems out of the question now or even in the near future. We can improve the park the city already has.

Harlow's Weekly is moved by Mrs. Bassett's determined stand in the Pauls Valley training school episode to compare the lady to Kate Barnard, the first occupant of the office Mrs. Bassett now holds. Perhaps Mrs. Bassett has taken Kate for her model but she will have to go some to approach the record of the little lady who preceded her, for Kate was a scrapper who never flinched in a battle with the biggest politicians of the state. She had an influence that some of the big guys both feared and hated and never hesitated to use it when the occasion demanded. However, it has been almost a decade since Kate left the office which she filled so ably and most of her effort since then has been to regain her health which was shattered in her long struggle. It was her mission in life to champion the cause of the under dog and she was indeed a formidable champion when one was needed. However, time flies rapidly and a generation has already arisen that has scarcely heard of Kate Barnard.

J. L. Shaw, secretary of the Lions Club, is in receipt of a letter from the Lions Club of Hot Springs, Ark., complaining of the news given the world by the newspapers about the destruction at Hot Springs. The Lions insist that the newspapers exaggerated the destruction. The letter failed to state that the destruction as enumerated in The Ada Evening News coincides with that reported in the letter itself.

Memorial Day.

(Holdenville Democrat)

The American people have adopted the custom of setting aside an hour on May's last Sabbath day in which to pay fitting tribute to those who in former days have died for the people of America. On that day they are wont to assemble in quiet churches or in still quieter cemeteries to pay the tribute of the living to the nation's holy dead. Next Sunday is the day of memories for 1923.

Such a day will naturally take the nation's memory back along the fiery track of war to every battleground on which Americans have died for freedom. The heart of America is large, and in that beating heart can be found a place for all who fell beneath the flag from the sacred village green of Lexington to the reddened valleys of Sedan. There is a memory and a lesson springing up from every soldier's grave, whether that grave be located among the rolling hills of the homeland or among the drifting sands of Tripoli or Flanders. Such memories revive the consecrated patriotism of the nation and cause the idealism for which these heroes died to live again in pristine purity.

But the lesson learned from such tragic memories is, after all, of supreme importance. Are we keeping alive the principles for which the Continentals died at Bunker's and Saratoga? Are we guarding with care the ideals of democracy and equality and opposing as our fathers opposed the encroachments of special privilege and executive autocracy? Are we vindicating a people's right to free government by showing ourselves capable and worthy of free government? Are we still taking the constitution and bill of rights as the square of our civic conduct and freely granting to every citizen the constitutional prerogatives we so resolutely demand for ourselves? Such is the lesson we learn on Memorial Day from the graves of our soldier dead. We are solemnly pledged by the blood they shed to keep alive forevermore the principles for which they so bravely marched to the field of carnage and for which they so freely gave up their lives. Unless we are keeping faith with those who won and preserved our freedom, then we have no right to observe Memorial Day, and any such an observance is a mockery and a maze of false pretense.

The Storehouse of Time.

(Chicago News)
What has been the greatest factor in the world's development?

BOOKS.
For they are the storehouse of ideas. By recording the thoughts, the events, the discoveries of one generation, they have made it possible for each succeeding generation to take the next step forward.

The inventions of science, the theories of philosophy, the principles of religion, the very laws and conventions under which we live and work are the product of the ages that preceded us, preserved and immortalized by the written word.

Evolution is continuous. Step by step each generation rises a little higher, profiting by the wisdom and experience of the great minds that preceded them. A Franklin "discovered" electricity. An Edison mastered electricity, making it subservient to man's bidding.

Books are the record of the ages—the bridge between the chasm of the past and the present—the milestones on the Road of Progress.

If you are not reading, you are not advancing. You are missing step with the forward march. You are shutting your eyes to the greatest thinkers of the ages—to the treasures in the storehouse of Time itself.

PEKING.—"Check your weapons at the door" is the purport of a bill prepared by a coterie of irate parliamentarians for the governing of brother members of the national parliament who are inclined to indulge in violence or horse-play during sessions. Furthermore, absence from sessions without special permission will subject members to fines and even to loss of their seats.

The bill calls for impeachment of any member carrying weapons in the chamber.

Injured Man to Receive Fund in Legislative Act

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Ed Pilgrim of Pauls Valley, who was permanently disabled when run over by a motor truck owned by the state of Oklahoma last fall, said to be a "pauper, his family an object of charity," now, will become comparatively rich after June 30.

A joint resolution passed by the Ninth legislature granting him $7,000 damages will be paid by order of the state industrial commission 30 days after the adjournment of the legislature, if it approves Pilgrim's claim.

A firm of Pauls Valley attorneys has interested itself in the case, according to a letter received by George Short, attorney general, and describes Pilgrim's case as being one of great necessity for quick action. "The money won't do him any good if he starves before he gets it," the letter pointed out.

WANT RANGE FOR GUARD RIFLEMEN

Markham Would Place Range for Disposal of Every Guard Unit.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 26.—A well equipped rifle range within easy access of every national guard unit in the state, is the aim of Major General Baird H. Markham, commanding the 45th National Guard division, and adjutant general of Oklahoma. He would increase the number of ranges in the state from the present total of 10 or 12 to at least 75. They would be built by state and federal funds.

General Markham has completed plans for the holding of a state rifle competition for national guardsmen at Fort Sill June 10 to 19, which 75 officers and enlisted men will compete. The state match is for the purpose of selecting a team which will represent the Oklahoma guard at the national rifle shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, in September.

Approximately 1,500 rifle experts will attend the Camp Perry match this year, General Markham said he had been advised. He pointed to the growth of the institution since its inception in 1907, when only 234 competitors were entered.

The Oklahoma teams entered in the Camp Perry shoot have climbed from far down the list to one of the leading places, General Markham said, and expect to move near the top when interest in rifle shooting has reached a general development in the state with the establishment of more ranges. Civilian teams will be offered every opportunity to shoot, he said, and will be encouraged to take part in matches.

Recent figures from the war department have shown a rapid growth of interest in rifle shooting, General Markham said. They indicate that there are at present 1,052,000 members of rifle organizations in the country, exclusive of men who attend civilian military training camps. There are more than 1,500 rifle and pistol ranges in operation, under direction of civilian rifle clubs affiliated with the National Rifle association. These are in addition to hundreds of ranges operated by various branches of the federal service.

The figures show, according to General Markham, that about 250,000 members of rifle clubs fire a small bore rifle, the .22 calibre on ranges. He pointed out that this number is about twice as large as the present regular army.

General Markham remarked that special inducements are being provided to secure entry of civilian teams in the Camp Perry shoot, which will last from September 1 to 27.

VANOSS.

Mrs. J. E. Sutherland returned home from Ada Tuesday after spending two weeks with her daughter Mrs. Tom A. Thomas. She was accompanied home by her young grandson, Tom Thomas, Jr.

The eighth grade examination was given Tuesday and Wednesday. Several made good passing grades while others fell low. Theodore Walters and Addie Solomon made the best grades. Pupils from Byford and Center came over and took some of it.

Mrs. Garland and Miss Reed took their pupils for a picnic Wednesday. Misses Viola West and Vivian Reed attended the graduating exercises at the college auditorium Wednesday morning, they being of the graduating class for life certificates. They returned to Vanoss on the one o'clock train.

The debating club met Wednesday evening.

The play "A Prairie Rose" was staged at the high school auditorium before a full house. Most of the players were new, but showed excellent talent for their first experience on the stage. It was given principally by the Freshman class. The cast of characters being: Beuford Tiffin as Dr. Robert Raymond the leading man. Esther Sutherland as "Prairie" Rose, the leading lady. Erma Flowers as Dorothy Deane. Carl Tilley as Phil Bryant. Lafa Tiffin as Ralph Wilder. Coda Sutherland as Uncle Silas Wilder. Mary Shaw as Agnes Raymond. Claxton Irving as Mose (negro). Edgar Little as Bill Briggs (cow boy). Leota Gaar as Lizzy Jane Slocum. James Walters as Archie Featherhead.

The play went off well, not to have more practice and many compliments were given to the new players.

An excellent program was given as Last Day Program Friday evening. Every room being represented, a very large crowd was present. Not nearly all could even get in the building.

School closed Friday after a successful term of two months. Those two months were indeed a help to the students who took advantage of the opportunity. Medals were awarded to the scouts making the best grades, and were given to Theodore Walters of the eighth grade and in high school, Carl Tilley of the Freshman class received the honors.

Mrs. C. W. White and daughter Bernice attended the last day program and spent Friday night with the Standridge family, then left with Mr. C. W. White for Ada Saturday morning.

Misses West, Reed and Cunningham all left on the 11:10 Saturday morning for Ada where they will attend college, the Miss Cunningham will spend this week with home folks in Sulphur.

Miss Clark left for Ada late Saturday afternoon. She will also attend college this summer in Ada.

Many contemplated on going to Maxwell to the singing Sunday, but on account of the rain the creeks were impassable and the roads were so bad that few went from Vanoss.

Mrs. S. L. Stegall has been on the sick list the past few days.

Mrs. Paul Sturdevant's sister of Ada is visiting with her this week.

B. D. Garland made a business trip to Ada Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Angel and children returned from Pauls Valley Monday where they had been with Mr. Angel's sister who has been seriously ill for a long time but found her fast improving but his mother not very well.

They reported heavy rainfall at Pauls Valley and the Washita was so they could not cross and came home Sunday.

Mrs. Nora Lynn returned this week from Texas where she has been visiting the past several days.

All the girls who were attending school at Ada came home to spend the week with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and their daughter Mary attended the commencement exercises at Sulphur Friday evening to see their daughter Mrs. Bena Beckham graduate. Mrs. Shaw remained at Sulphur for a few days' visit, while Bena and her husband returned with the others to Vanoss after the exercises. They went on to Stratford Sunday to spend a few days with Mr. Beckham's parents and friends.

GAMES HELP TEACHING OF CORRECT ENGLISH

(By the Associated Press)
HALIFAX, N. S., May 25.—Nova Scotia, long regarded as a "well of English, pure and undefiled," today launches a "Better English Week Drive" with Miss Rosamund M. de Wolfe Archibald, a teacher at Acadia Seminary in Wolfville, as one of the leaders.

Miss Archibald claims to have a brand new system of teaching the spoken word. She has invented a game, known as "corrections."

"One day during the war," she explains, "I realized the swift change from a raw recruit to a finished soldier that a month of military drill produced. Then I saw the amazing folly in our methods of teaching correct speech."

"I called my pupils to their feet, to stand at attention, to salute the flag, and to recite in concert a few correct sentences, drill fashion. Then I sent them forth to correct errors, copying down corrections only of all mistakes detected at home, in school and in public speaking."

"The effect on their speech was magical. In a week of practice we had accomplished what a lifetime of theory has often failed to do."

Today parents are playing the game of corrections with their children and, incidentally, benefiting by it.

"The child links up his language with his flag. He is made to feel that it is just as treasonable to make a mistake in his speech as to dishonor that flag."

MIAMI.—With $20,000 on hand for building of a municipal convention hall here, a move is under way to double or treble that sum for the building of a memorial hall which would be used for all civic purposes. It is understood that several offers of free sites for the building have been made to the city, the sites each being valued at about $10,000.

VETERAN BUREAU AID EMPLOYMENT

Ex-Service Men Receive Training at Expense of Government.

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, May 24.—The United States Veterans' Bureau here has 78 ex-soldiers, all Oklahomans who have had special training at the expense of the government, to fit into professional, commercial, industrial or agricultural positions in the state, it has been announced.

George J. Yarberry, sub-district employment officer, in asking that these men be given positions at once, listed them as follows:

Candidates for professional positions, including geologists, journalists, lawyers, pharmacists, physicians and instructors.

Candidates for commercial positions, including bank clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, cotton classifiers, office clerks and telegraphers.

Candidates for positions in trades and industries, including automobile ignition experts, mechanics, trimmers and battermen, cabinet makers, cleaners and pressers, electrical engineers, grocers, industrial chemists, power plant operators, shoe repair men, superintendent of construction, typewriter repair men.

Candidates for agricultural positions, a dairyman and a livestock expert.

The veterans' bureau has to date trained about 2,100 ex-service men in district fourteen, including the states of Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas, Yarberry said, and has placed all but a small number of the men in suitable and permanent employment. Men are now being graduated at the rate of about 100 a month in the district, he added.

The bureau's work over the country has resulted in the graduation

OKLAHOMA CITY.—An aged woman living in the North Canadian river bottoms here re-enacted in connection with this week's floods, a part police say she has come to fill annually. When rising waters lapped through the crack under her door she began telephoning to police to rescue her, and continued at five minute intervals until a boat appeared. Police say there is no flood danger until her telephone calls begin.

BRITAIN NAMES COMMISSION TO FRAME TAX ON BETTING

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, May 25.—When Chancellor Baldwin presented his annual budget in the House of Commons recently he intimated that a commission would be appointed to inquire into the feasibility of a tax on betting, which has reached tremendous proportions in Britain, and from which he anticipated considerable revenue could be secured.

The committee has now been appointed and includes several members of parliament who are noted sportsmen. The committee comprises 19 members drawn from all parties of the house. Eleven of them are Conservatives, two National Liberals, two Independent Liberals and four Labor members.

PROHIBITION HARD ENFORCE IN PANHANDLE

(By the Associated Press) OKLAHOMA CITY, May 24.—

Prohibition is hard to enforce in the Panhandle country of Oklahoma because the bootleggers operate in three states, according to Charles M. Mos, Beaver County attorney.

In a letter to the attorney general the Beaver county attorney called attention to the fact that any point in Beaver county can be reached in a few hours from either Texas or Kansas, and complained that before search warrants for automobiles could be obtained the bootleggers unloaded their wares and escaped into one of the other states.

"In the enforcement of the prohibitory laws in this county we have been greatly handicapped by the fact that the bootleggers are running over the lines from the neighboring states, Kansas and Texas," the county attorney said in his letter. "Only a few hours being necessary to reach any point in the county from those states, it is impossible to ascertain whether the car is transporting liquor and obtain a search warrant in time to catch them before unloading."

The county attorney asked for an opinion on the necessity of obtaining search warrants before searching automobiles. He was advised that there must be a reasonable presumption that the car carries liquor before an officer may search it without a warrant, and that the burden of proving such presumption reasonable must be placed on the officer, and should be backed by something more than "suspicion."

WHAT THEY SAY

A letter to the editor of the Ada Evening News from C. J. Warren reports he is improving. In order that the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Warren may know more about them the letter is given in full:
"I receive the News regularly and it is with great pleasure I hear from home. I expected to be back before this but was taken ill December 16th and have been confined to bed ever since. I have improved very much the last month but will not be able to return to Ada before fall.
"I have spent the winter in Burbank, ten miles north of Los Angeles, located in the beautiful San Fernando valley twenty miles from the ocean. Burbank is not far from Pasadena located at the foot of the same range of mountains and has a wonderful climate.
"I have enjoyed the wonderful roses, flowers and green covered mountains all winter.
"Real estate here is on a boom equal to an Oklahoma oil boom. The constant advance in prices and constant growth is almost beyond believing unless one sees it.
"Very truly,
"C. J. WARREN."

KIWANIS GATHER IN ANNUAL MEET

Delegates From All Parts of United States and Canada to Attend.

ATLANTA, May 26.—Six thousand Kiwanis club members from all parts of the United States, and some from Canada, scheduled to arrive by rail, airplane, automobile and on foot, will assemble here Monday, May 28, as delegates and visitors to the international assembly of Kiwanis clubs. They will be in session four days.
One delegate has notified Atlanta convention headquarters that he will fly down from Tennessee, while another has announced he will walk to Atlanta from a city in Pennsylvania.
The convention will be one of the largest on Atlanta's calendar of the year, and all agencies in the city are co-operating to put it over. Civic clubs and women's organizations are uniting in handling extensive entertainment features.
Monday and Tuesday will be marked by business sessions. On Wednesday the visitors will observe national Memorial Day with exercises before the peace monument in Piedmont Park, at which George H. Ross, of Toronto, international Kiwanis president, will be the speaker. Thursday's closing sessions will be featured by election of officers and election of the next convention city.
A variety of entertainment will be sandwiched between business sessions. Automobile trips will take the Kiwanian to many points of interest, including the famous Stone Mountain upon whose face is being carved a memorial to the south's war heroes.
A "Georgia barbecue" without which no convention here is regarded as complete, will attract the Kiwanians one day during their visit. "Plantation Days," an indoor glimpse of the old south, will feature ante-bellum costumes and negro choruses, with a Virginia reel to top it off.

EVERY member of the family can be properly fitted in becoming and serviceable footwear in our shoe department. Mother, Father, Brother, Sister and all the little tots can find shoes of all materials and for all occasions.

NO where is the reasonableness of price, the quality of the article and the smartness of style more happily combined than in the values offered at our store. Our large stock makes selection easy, hence assures a better turn-over. We give our customers the benefit in the retail price.
